

Nathan Tyson and Blake Jackson

The Deer Who Could Play Baseball

There once was a baby deer named Charlie. Charlie wasn't any ordinary deer. He was a deer that could play baseball. It all started one day when Charlie was walking around and a foul ball got hit to him. Charlie picked up the baseball, got on his hind legs and threw the ball back on the field. This is how Charlie got on the Texas Rangers.

The reason Charlie has special deer powers is because his gogo juice he drinks all the time. It is Red Bull, Milk, and Mountain Dew. One day he drank his gogo juice, grabbed a baseball bat and walked out on a baseball field. John Smoltz just happened to be pitching on that field. Charlie said, "I bet I can hit a ball out on you." The first pitch came and BAMM! The metal bat broke, the ball went soaring through the air, and Freddie Freeman came out of nowhere and robbed it. Charlie got a 10 year, 22 million dollar contract for the Atlanta Braves to take Chipper Jones' spot at third base. Chipper got traded to the Rangers to play third base. Charlie and Chipper now hate each other because they took each other's spot.

The Braves first game was against the Texas Rangers. When Chipper went up to bat he hit the ball to the fence. Charlie took off to the fence and was determined not to let the ball go over so he jumped 15 feet up in the air, did a backflip, and caught the ball. The fans were not happy because they wanted that ball to go over the fence. They charged the field after Charlie, but Charlie got around all of them. He got out of the stadium and hopped on a private jet and flew back to Atlanta. After that he figured out that basketball is his sport and not baseball. He got drafted by the Heat and took LeBron's spot. There he spent the rest of his life dunking all over Blake Griffin. All of the NBA players thought that a deer playing basketball was the stupidest thing ever. Charlie showed all of them it wasn't stupid because he will soon become the best basketball player ever. He ended up getting more NBA titles than LeBron, Kobe, and Michael Jordan combined. Charlie was the most hated basketball player ever by the other players because he plays so rough that he would accidentally foul them and they would get into fights.

Charlie and the Heat won six championships in a row. They didn't win seven in a row because Charlie tore his ACL against the Chicago Bulls. The Heat and the Bulls is one of the biggest rivals in all of basketball.

LeBron wasn't getting any playing time so he decided to go play for the Bulls. The Heat and the Bulls play a lot so Charlie and LeBron become big rivals. LeBron finished his career with eight NBA titles, but Charlie won seventeen NBA titles in the nineteen years he played in the NBA.

Charlie was the first deer to ever play sports. He is considered the best basketball player and baseball player that has ever lived.